He was educated in William Jewell College, Missouri, taking his professional training and receiving his high school recommendation from Stanford University. For one year he was instructor in mathematics and physics of the high school of Carlsbad, New Mexico. He taught for one year in the Mid-Pacific Institute at Honolulu. Then he came to Stanford University and spent a year in professional study in preparation for school work in California.

In April, 1917, when Principal Lewis Britton entered the United States army and necessary changes were made in the faculty at Morgan Hill, Mr. Cassingham became a teacher in the high school there, handling the work in chemistry, history, economics and mathematics. He taught there thirteen months. Then he entered the navy from which he has recently been released.

Mr. Cassingham has had experience as a coach in athletics and will no doubt strive to keep our teams up to their present high standard of excellence.

SUPERVISORS HOLD REGULAR SESSION

The board of supervisors met in regular session Monday, January 20, at 10 a. m., there being present John MacBain, presiding; T. L. Hickey, W. H. Brown, Jos. M. Francis and Dr. C. V. Thompson.

This being the time set for the hearing of the petition heretofore presented for the closing of Parkinson avenue in Woodlawn Place, near Menlo Park, Charles Weeks, one of the interested parties, appeared before the board and presented a map showing proposed street changes in the event of the granting of the petition and the closing of the above avenue. Following an inspection of the map, the board, on motion of Thompson, seconded by Brown, adopted a resolution granting the request of the petitioners and ordering the abandonment of the thoroughfare.

A communication addressed to Supervisor Brown from Supervisor R. W. Weich of San Francisco, chairman of the committee appointed some time ago from the four counties, Santa Cruz, Santa Clara, San Mateo and San Francisco—on the Skyline Boulevard project, was read, in which it stated that a meeting of the committee was to be held in San Francisco on January 18, and urgently requested that Supervisor Brown, as representative from this county, be present.

Supervisor Brown stated that he attended the meeting and he outlined the plans that had been suggested for building the road, among which was to secure an appropriation of $150,000 from the State to help finance the project. Supervisor Brown said that State Senator M. J. Johnson, who was present at the San Francisco conference, was of the opinion that this money could be appropriated. Owing to the expected attendance at the meeting later in the day of Secretary Mason of the committee, the board decided to lay the matter over until the afternoon session.

This being the time set for the hearing of the petitions presented by Superintendent of Schools Roy W. Weich at the meeting of January 6, asking for the changing of the boundary lines of the Burlingame and the Millbrae school districts, so that a portion of the latter district might be taken into the Burlingame district, attorney R. J. Kimball, representing petitioners, read, asking for the changing of the boundaries of the above districts. The reasons for making the change, as outlined by the petitioners, was to enable the children residing in the southern end of the Millbrae district, to attend the Burlingame school.

Following an address by M. G. McClintock, chairman of the Burlingame school trustees, in which he strongly recommended the changing of the boundaries, the board, on motion of Hickey, seconded by Brown, adopted a resolution, granting the petition and establishing the boundaries of the new district.

Chairman MacBain addressed the board and stated that a family of father and mother and four children living in Menlo Park and in destitute circumstances, had been taken ill with influenza. The eldest of the children, a boy, died. Owing to the destitute condition of the family, Chairman MacBain said he had agreed in behalf of the county, to take care of the burial of the child, the Catholic church in Menlo Park having offered to donate the grave.

This action was approved by the board, on motion of Brown, seconded by Hickey. A communication was received from the grand jury recommending the following recommendations adopted by that body on January 13:

We, the present grand jury of San Mateo county, after a most thorough and careful investigation, do believe that the county farm and hospital should be maintained at its present location.

We also recommend immediately stopping the sinking of any wells, as there is no tangible indications of water, and that immediate steps be taken towards installing a water supply which is possible by connecting with the Spring Valley Water company's main and which can be done at a reasonable cost, as it is probable that sufficient pipe can be purchased from Camp Fremont. The sewer system has been looked into and we have decided that it is not of immediate necessity but would undoubtedly have to be attended to in the future.

We also recommend that at the same time electric current be brought in for lighting and for power.

We also recommend, that, from time to time as needed, additional buildings of a permanent character should be constructed as, by doing this, there will be eventually a more modern buildings suitable for the purpose of the County Farm and Hospital.

We also strongly urge that the foregoing recommendations be carried out through a special tax as one bond election, alone, would amount to almost half of the initial expenditures. The grand jury has arrived at these conclusions and are satisfied that the recommendations are for the best interests of the residents of the county.

Respectfully submitted
F. D. LORTON, Foreman
ANNE M. GORDFREY, Secretary.

FOUR YOUNG MEN PLEADED GUILTY TO CHARGE

James H. Loftus, William Code, Timothy O'Leary and Patsy Barry, charged with a serious crime in the superior court, pleaded guilty to a felony charge before Judge Buck Thursday afternoon and will be sentenced next Thursday. E. P. Conila appeared for O'Leary and Loftus and Walter J. Thompson for Code and Barry. On the night of January 2 the young men were at a party in San Francisco and at the invitation of one McGlennan accepted an automobile ride in a car which McGlennan had stolen from Dr. Stowell. The boys proceeded to San Bruno where they ran out of gasoline. They endeavored to secure some from a tank on the roadside and were interrupted by Officer A. G. Meehan of San Bruno. The lads ran away and McGlennan was shot and killed. The other youths afterwards gave themselves up.

Attorney Conila made an eloquent plea for his clients in asking that they be admitted to probation. He told of the youth of the accused and their good character. It was a boyish prank that caused them to take the impulse of the moment to take the ride which had such bad results. Mr. Thompson also made an able plea for his clients. The court looked rather seriously upon the affair and while he thought the boys were entitled to consideration owing to their youth, yet he wanted time to look into the case. It is probable that the court will admit the boys to probation.

GLADYS PATTERSON GRANTED DIVORCE

Judge Buck on Wednesday granted an interlocutory decree of divorce to Gladys M. Patterson from her husband, E. R. Patterson of San Mateo. The plaintiff resides at Sacramento. The decree was granted on the ground of cruelty. The Pattersons were married at San Francisco on January, 1912. They separated on March 6, 1918. They have two children, a girl, aged three years and a boy, aged 18 months. Mr. Patterson holds a responsible position with the Western Meat company at South San Francisco. All property rights and the custody of the children were agreed upon by the parties to the action. The mother is to have the care and custody of the boy while the father will have charge of the girl. The court was reluctant to sign the decree as the case made out by plaintiff was not very strong and hoped a reconciliation might be made before the final decree was granted. Inasmuch as both sides had agreed upon the custody of the children and upon the statement of Mr. Hall C. Ross that a reconciliation was impossible the court granted the decree.

Ross and Ross of this city appeared for defendant while Dunn and Brand of Sacramento represented plaintiff. Mrs. Patterson is an extremely pretty woman.

SAN CARLOS ITEMS

In his initial and introductory circular addressed to the 1524 third and fourth class postmasters in California of which the State Branch of the National League of Postmasters is composed, the new secretary has suggested that Redwood City be the next convention city and he has very high hopes that the suggestion will meet with the approval of the executive board and that of the membership at large. Redwood City is Redwood City's ideal and convenient location, being midway between San Francisco and San Jose, with the scenic beauty spots of the famous peninsula near by, and being located next door to the state headquarters. Mr. Cowling has assured the postmasters that Redwood City has been a favorite convention city for many years owing to the hospitable spirit of its business men, its citizens and our popular county officials. As the postmaster is usually the choice of a large majority of the patrons of his office and hence wields considerable influence in his little community it should mean very considerable to the people of Redwood City to have the representatives of the third and fourth-class postmasters visit their town and then go home and tell about it.

Another advantage that San Carlos has over other interior towns down the peninsula, is that of the southern Pacific Garage with space for two machines; first in, first served, while the balance stand out in the sun or rain until the owners return from San Francisco.

Mr. Chas. H. Hosmer, one of Spring Valley Water Company's city collectors, has taken a few days' vacation which he is enjoying at home in his garden.

Madam W. O. Schnall, formerly one of the prominent milliners of the "Windy City" but who, since her retirement, has made her home in California is now a guest of her friend, Mrs. D. L. Stewart. Madam Schnall has just returned from the mission of conveying the remains of her husband to Milwaukee, his old home, for interment. He having succumbed to an attack of influenza in San Francisco five or six weeks ago. Madam Schnall says it was bitter cold to a Californian in Wisconsin, the thermometer standing at 14 below zero the morning she left for the west.

Mrs. Abbie Buel who has been at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Farnham during a large part of her protracted visit in California, left last Wednesday for another visit with relatives in Bakersfield before starting on her homeward journey to New Hampshire.

Mrs. Emma Huff who as a practical nurse has been following her profession at Sausalito for several months in here for a visit at the home of her friend, Mrs. Jno. V. Clark.

The meeting which was to have been held in the school house auditorium on Saturday evening, January 18th, under the auspices of the local council, State Council of Defense, has now been postponed to Saturday evening, February 22nd, owing to the influenza epidemic. After the work of the council is completed those who come will then be at liberty to indulge in the light fantastic, or some sort of games to their liking.

Vice-president, Mr. Wm. H. Nichols, postmaster at Ben Lomond and one of the representative business men of that section dropped in to call upon and size up the new secretary of the Postmaster's League last Saturday.

Mr. B. L. Colter, manager of the C. C. Morse company's trial gardens here received a large shipment of seeds of numerous varieties last Saturday. Just as soon after the present storm as the condition of the soil will permit the spring planting will begin. The San Carlos trial gardens is to become the principal and most important experimental station of this world-famed producer and distributor of choice garden seeds, and it is highly probable, owing to its favorable location, that a little later on the principal warehouse of the company may be located here and seeds from their farms throughout the state will be shipped in here by the tons to be culled and prepared for shipment by car load to points all over North America and for transport to all parts of the world. Mr. Morse had for some years considered locating their principal trial garden at some favorable point of the peninsula, and after many trips up and down this part of the peninsula he found that San Carlos was the most inviting, having less fog and a minimum of heavy winds as compared to other localities. When the garden is well established and the greater variety of flower and vegetable plants are in full bloom it will be a scene of great beauty and will add to the greater number of attractions we already enjoy in and around our little city.

Mr. L. J. Taylor, one of the H. S. Crocker company sales agents, was in our little city last Saturday looking after the interests of his company. About twelve months ago Mr. Taylor supplied a part of the office equipment for the representative of the O. R. T. here. Mr. Taylor's specialty is that of placing addressing machines with various organizations that have a large mailing list, and it is very probable he will be favored with an order from the secretary of the postmaster's league before many moons.

SOCIAL SERVICE COMMISSION QUIT

The Social Service Commission of the county resigned in a body on Monday last. For some time it has been known that there was friction between the commission and the board of supervisors, they failing to agree on material matters. The resignation is the outcome of the difficulties between the parties. The women served without compensation to direct the welfare work of the county.

The board and commission held a joint meeting Monday and it was thought that all differences were adjusted at this meeting, but later the commission tendered its resignation to the board which will be acted upon at a meeting of the supervisors to be held on Monday, February 3. Miss Lillian J. Haley, the paid secretary of the commission, placed her resignation in the hands of the ladies some two weeks ago as also did Miss Hazel Wedgwood, the public health nurse employed by the commission. Miss Haley would not remain and no doubt this hastened the resignation of the ladies who placed much confidence in their services.

Miss Lulu Beeger will remain in the office until the meeting of the board to wind up the business of the commission. She has been Miss Haley's assistant for some months. It is not known what action the board will take. It is just possible that a new commission may be appointed.

Doings at Peninsula Garden Spot As Told in Breezy Style By Our Reporters

Frienda Pelecar, aged 15 years, passed away at his parents' home late Saturday evening following an illness of ten days with pneumonia brought on by an attack of the "flu." The little fellow made a brave struggle but his frail constitution could not withstand the ravages of the harrowing disease. The remains were interred in Holy Cross cemetery on Monday. The boy was a favorite with all, popular and loved for his boyish ways and happy and bountiful spirit. The mother of this boy and his three brothers are at the detention home in Redwood City suffering with the same disease. One of the boys, John, is very sick and may also pass away. The stricken family have every care. Mr. Pelecar is recovering from the disease at his home in Mills avenue and will soon be able to give his attention to the other members of the family.

E. J. Crane has appointed Miss Genevieve Grest, one of the assistants in the postoffice. Miss Grest is a very clever girl, competent and efficient and with all possessing a charming manner, a very necessary attribute in public office. She is a graduate of St. Joseph's parochial school.

John Fitzgerald of San Luis Obispo passed away at a military camp at Philadelphia during the week with pneumonia brought on by an attack of influenza. He was a cousin of M. F. Duff and J. Doyle. The young man enlisted when the war was declared and for a time trained at Camp Kearny afterwards going east with a contingent.

During the week the three Catholic chaplains left for Hoboken, N. J., to enter the government transport service. There is no chaplain left at the camp. Mass will be celebrated every Sunday morning at 9 o'clock by Father Kennedy of the base hospital. The chaplains who went east were Fathers Boyle, Pax and Maguire.

One of the most enjoyable occasions at the Knights of Columbus recreation building occurred on Wednesday night at the weekly dance. The place was packed with soldiers and young ladies from all parts of the peninsula who enjoyed the mazy waltz and quick two-step. There will not be many more dances at the place for on the building will be dismantled. This will cause much regret for it was here that both the soldiers and young ladies of the peninsula thoroughly enjoyed dancing. Refreshments were served free by the Knights assisted by the people of Menlo Park.

Mrs. Gertrude Carroll formerly of the Poppy Candy and Ice Cream Shop on Santa Cruz avenue, has purchased acreage in the Dillman tract, at Menlo Heights west of town, and will improve her improvements from the present site to the new possessions, as a suburban home. The University Realty company are the selling agents.

The Selby estate has leased the entire tract of nearly ninety acres, bounded by Selby Lane on the north, and on the south by Atherton avenue. The lessees are now working with machinery boring for water, with good prospects for an abundant supply to irrigate the land which is being set out with tomato plants, and no doubt a very large crop will be gathered.

In this connection we may say that there is all likelihood of a large cannery to be built in the near vicinity, exactly where, has not as yet been decided; it is understood that the plant will be built in time for the canning season which opens for tomatoes, along in the month of August.

on Sunday night last and notwithstanding the down pour there was a large attendance. The playhouse opened on January first, 1915, with a blaze of glory. It was then that the troops began to pour in to Camp Fremont. The house did a splendid business having full houses at every show. There are many soldiers who are now living in various parts of the world who enjoyed an hour or more at the theatre. Local theatre-goers will oft' recall the many happy moments spent within the walls of the famous playhouse. It is not known what disposition Mr. Merrill will make of the building. A rumor was afloat yesterday to the effect that it would be transformed into a wholesale candy factory. Another rumor had it that a San Francisco theatre man had leased it and would give shows every Saturday and Sunday evenings.

On January 31 the postoffice at Camp Fremont will be discontinued and the business of the concern will be transacted by the local postoffice. Mr. Crane will have his hands full in handling this vast volume of business.

A representative of a large canning concern was here during the week buying next season's tomato crop. He went through Camp Fremont and was shown all the buildings. The company he represents is thinking of buying the buildings and starting a cannery here.

Father Canon Cabanel, chaplain of the Blue Devils of France, was at St. Patrick's Seminary during the week. He delivered an interesting address to the students. He is one of the most noted chaplains in the world.

Harry C. Peterson is writing some very interesting special articles for the San Francisco Call about the big sequoia that stands as a sentinel at the railroad bridge on the San Francisco creek. His future articles will deal with the Stanford University and its environments. There are some very interesting bits of history entwined around the locality which will be published and read with avidity. Formerly there were two trees at the bridge known as the twin sequoias. One of them fell a victim to the ravages of time along in the latter seventies. The collapse of the giant redwood caused a sensation at the time. There is a legend concerning the trees to the effect that in early days pirates cached their plunder near the big trees. Naturally when the giant crumbled and fell hundreds of people gathered around it to find the treasure cached a hundred years or more ago. For days a search was made for the hidden gold but its color could not be found. This part of the interesting story is omitted from Mr. Peterson's narrative but it may be supplied later with full details. The inhabitants of Menlo Park are reading those articles with eagerness. Later the early days of Menlo Park will be highly profitable to the reader.
